

BRONX BUILDING BUREAU 'ROTTEN,' MARTIN'S CHARGE

Prosecutor Says Six Arrests Made for Collapse Are Only Start in Big Exposure.

Denouncing the Building Department of the Bronx for its gross neglect and intimating that influence of various sorts was making it difficult for building inspectors in that borough to do their work conscientiously, District Attorney Martin today declared that yesterday's arrests of six men involved in the collapse of the apartment house which caused the death of two workmen and the injury of seventeen others, was only a beginning of the arrests in connection with that disaster.

The evidence brought out during the investigation will be presented to the Grand Jury the latter part of this week. An engineer and two expert builders who have been engaged by the District Attorney to examine the collapsed apartment house will also testify before that body.

"The investigation has developed the fact that the Building Department of the Bronx is rotten," said Mr. Martin. "The inspection system is lax and nobody in the department seems to know what his duties are."

"The facts brought out point in a higher direction and the efforts of my office will not cease until all light is thrown on the whole scandalous procedure."

"The arrest of the six men yesterday is just a beginning. I have been told by one of the inspectors that the task of inspecting buildings in the Bronx was a very difficult one. The inspector intimated that because of the fact that dummies were being used in the construction line up here, it is necessary for inspectors to use extreme care."

Robert Moorehead, Superintendent of the Buildings Department in the Bronx, is in Maine recuperating from an illness which followed a stroke of apoplexy. District Attorney Martin today notified Moorehead's assistants to have their chief on hand next Wednesday, the date set for the inquest into the deaths of the two men who sustained fatal injuries when the building fell.

COUNTERFEITER SUSPECT CAUGHT IN HIS OWN NET

Offered to Betray Comrades That They Might Know Secret Service Agents.

The six alleged counterfeiters seized last week in a raid by United States Secret Service agents at Grand City, Staten Island, were arraigned today before United States Commissioner Medford in Brooklyn. Capt. John J. Henry of the Secret Service told how the counterfeiters' suspects were trapped by their own efforts to outwit the government agents.

Antonio Montiforte got into touch with Capt. Henry last February by offering to report certain counterfeiters. Capt. Henry divined Montiforte's motive which, it is said, was to get himself shadowed so that his comrades could become acquainted with the men.

Although Montiforte accompanied Capt. Henry several times he was never shadowed. Then, late in April, when Montiforte was not suspecting, he was trailed by the Secret Service men. They never lost sight of him after that. Witnesses told of Montiforte and other members of the band buying inks and a printing press.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE INTO DITCH; TWO HURT

Benjamin Saxton and Chauffeur Pinned Under Car—Jeweller Knocked Down.

Benjamin Saxton, aged sixty, a garage keeper of No. 218 West One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street, and his chauffeur, William Nulty, thirty-four, of No. 40 West One Hundred and Forty-second Street, were injured early today when Saxton's car ran into a wall and overturned in Lexington Avenue near One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street and turned turtle.

Police from the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street Station, arrested the two men from under the car. Saxton was taken to Harlem Hospital with internal injuries and lacerations. Nulty went home after having his bruises attended by the ambulance surgeon. The machine was practically wrecked.

Another early morning automobile accident occurred when Harry Wallace of No. 60 West One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street drove a light car into a walling machine on the car track on West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street near Fifth Avenue. Wallace and a woman companion escaped without injury, but the car knocked down Robert Croner, twenty-seven years old, a jeweller, of No. 50 West One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street. Croner was able to go home after being attended at Harlem Hospital. The car was considerably damaged.

Joseph Cannon of No. 40 East Forty-eighth Street and Edward McGuire of No. 470 East Sixty-sixth Street were taken to the Harlem Hospital early today to be treated for slight injuries after an automobile in which they were riding had been struck by a Madison Avenue car at One Hundred and Twentieth Street.

Aim to Eliminate Jewelry Fakes
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—A closer cooperation between the retailer and the wholesaler was advocated by speakers at the annual convention of the American National Retail Jeweler's Association here today. Jean H. Tack of Newark, N. J., second vice-president of the association, led a discussion on "How to eliminate the fake from the jewelry business."

The Doctor says: Keep nose and throat clean

For Infants: Paralytic begins as a nose and mouth infection. Only a most powerful antiseptic will destroy the germs of this dreaded disease.

For Adults: Itchy nose, sore throat, watery eyes, and a general feeling of discomfort—these are the first signs of the dreaded disease.

Use the kind the doctor uses. It's the only one that's safe to use. Economical—always used in water.

STEARNS' ALPHOZONE

Most powerful antiseptic containing no poison

Kills disease germs helps save the babies

One of the most noted Professors of Bacteriology in Europe compiled a series of tests on Stearns' Alphonzone and reported:

"In Alphonzone we have a very potent germicide equal to the most powerful of our germicides, except Florida, with the ADVANTAGE of being non-poisonous, for a domestic and practically non-irritating."

For protection against germs from Infantile Paralysis, as well as other contagious diseases, both children and adults should use Alphonzone. Dissolve Stearns' Alphonzone Tablets in water and use daily as a nasal douche and gargle. Thousands of physicians have proved the value of Alphonzone as an antiseptic and germicide during the last twelve years.

Ask your druggist for Stearns' Alphonzone—comes with full directions in a handy size bottle containing 25 tablets—manufactured by
